Pack Shadowlords

This is how a pack consisting of a Ragabash, a Theurge, a Philodox, a Galliard, and an Ahroun, all of the Shadow Lords tribe, would likely answer the questionnaire. The Shadow Lords are known for their fierce ambition, desire for leadership, and cunning manipulation. The answers are a blended perspective, but often reflect the dominant, pragmatic, and power-hungry nature of the tribe, with each Rank (Auspice) influencing the vote.

? Pack Answers: Shadow Lords

Question	Answer (Rationale)
What motivates you most?	Personal strength and victory (The tribe's core ethos is ambition, power, and the right to rule. Ahroun and Philodox strongly push this.)
How do you view technology?	A tool to adapt and survive (Shadow Lords are pragmatic; they'll use any tool, be it claw or cell phone, to gain an advantage. Neutrality and distrust are less strategic.)
Your ideal community would be:	Hierarchical, led by the wise or strong (This is the Shadow Lord tribal philosophy: strong, wise leaders must rule. Philodox and Ahroun are the enforcers of this.)
When faced with conflict, you prefer to:	Fight directly and assert power (While manipulation is key, an Ahroun's vote is heavy in a conflict. When the time for talk is over, Shadow Lords assert dominance physically.)
How do you feel about rules and tradition?	Preserve and enforce them (They uphold the Litany to maintain the hierarchy that they intend to lead. Philodox enforces tradition.)
A corrupt official endangers the city. You:	Work from the shadows, sabotage their plans (This is classic Shadow Lord cunning. Ragabash and Theurge prefer a strategic, discreet removal that leaves no trace and asserts control.)
You encounter a helpless animal suffering. You:	Rage against the cause, take direct action (The tribe is not typically spiritual or overly compassionate; they prefer a direct, powerful solution to a problem, likely fueled by the Ahroun's rage.)

Question	Answer (Rationale)
Your group is divided on a decision. You:	Push a strong point of view (Shadow Lords aren't known for compromise. Every member, especially the Philodox, Galliard, and Ahroun, is expected to assert their position and dominate the debate.)
A stranger requests refuge. You:	Size them up and test their worth (Suspicion is key. The Shadow Lords never offer anything for free and need to determine if the stranger is a threat or a potential asset.)
You witness injustice. You:	Gather allies and act as a group (The Shadow Lords are calculating. They rarely act rashly; they rally their resources to ensure victory and maximum impact/credit for the intervention.)
Which resonates with you?	Urban life and modern spirit (While respecting the Wyld, Shadow Lords are the most urban and pragmatic tribe, focused on modern power structures and asserting their dominance over humankind.)
For you, leadership should be:	Won through competition (Leadership is a right earned through superior cunning, strength, and will. They compete fiercely for position.)
How do you treat secrets?	Protect and use strategically (Secrets are valuable currency and leverage. The Ragabash and Theurge would ensure secrets are used to manipulate rivals or gain power.)
How do you view modern human society?	Fragile and corrupt (They see it as weak and deserving of their "strong" rule. Its corruption only proves their need to take charge.)
If given supernatural power, you'd:	Fight the world's greatest evils (This is a pragmatic answer; their 'greatest evils' are threats to the world they intend to rule, and they desire power to eliminate these obstacles.)
